

Start up a Men's Shed with a grant from the Innovate & Cultivate Fund

Men's Sheds come in all shapes and sizes to suit the needs of its members. There are already a handful of Men's Sheds in Cambridgeshire. They can be set up by a new or existing community group, charity, housing association, residential home, or a Parish or Town Council.

Cambridgeshire County Council would particularly welcome applications to the Innovate & Cultivate Fund to set up Men's Sheds in communities across Cambridgeshire. You can apply for a £2000 start-up grant to cover the first two years of your Shed development.

What is a Men's Shed?

Men's Sheds are spaces to meet with others to make and mend, learn new skills and share old ones, and to socialise. They often involve woodworking, metalworking, electronics, model-making, gardening, repairing and restoring. Many Sheds get involved in community projects too – restoring village features, helping maintain parks and green spaces, and building things for schools, libraries and individuals in need.

Sheds vary greatly and can be found in purpose built workshops, warehouses, empty offices, garages, storage sheds, old farm buildings or even Portakabins. Many Shed groups start out with no formal premises and meet regularly to socialise and scope out their plans until they find a space for their tools.

Sheds typically attract older men, but many have younger members and women too and some are called Community Sheds. Each Shed is unique and shaped by its membership.

What makes Men's Sheds suitable for this fund?

Sheds offer far more than just time and shared space for men to build and create. Older men are more likely to be socially isolated than women and can be less likely to ask for support. Men are attracted to Sheds for the hands-on activities they offer and the camaraderie. Sheds also provide opportunities for socialising, making new friends, building new connections in the community and creating informal networks of support and information. Membership of a Men's Shed has been shown to improve health and wellbeing, increase independence and offer a sense of purpose for men who are lonely or isolated.

They can be particularly beneficial for older men who are carers, recently retired or bereaved or who are new to the area. Sheds can:

- Increase community involvement and social networks
- Promote residents' health and well-being
- Improve mental health
- Reduce feelings of isolation and loneliness
- Offer informal learning opportunities
- Prevent carer breakdown
- Improve cognition and dexterity
- Strengthen connections between younger and older members of the community, and also between newcomers and more established residents

What do you need to start a Shed?

- A good understanding of your community: Setting up a Shed is hard work so before applying for funding you need to work out whether a Shed is needed in your local area, whether it would be successful and how you would engage more vulnerable members of the community. You should also consider what local groups, clubs and community projects already exist in your community. Talk to them about how a Shed could complement and add value to the great work they do. You can learn more about your community from the County Council's Parish Profiles - <https://cambridgeshireinsight.org.uk/parish-profile/>
- People: Spread the word about Men's Sheds and find out who is interested in helping to set up a Shed or become a Shed member. This can be done through word of mouth, surveys, social media, promotional materials in shops, GP surgeries, libraries and community newsletters or magazines, talking to other community groups and clubs, public meeting or social events.
- A Committee: A Shed Committee will help to shape a vision for the Shed and share the tasks required to get the Shed started. Visit other Sheds to get inspiration for the types of activities that can be done and the variety of premises that can host a Shed. Most Sheds start by becoming an unincorporated organisation or Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO). You will need a constituted legal structure and bank account to apply for grant funding. Support Cambridgeshire can advise on governance and legal structures <https://www.supportcambridgeshire.org.uk/>
- Potential premises: Survey your area for suitable premises to borrow, lease or purchase land to build your own Shed. You will need to consider costs, access to toilet facilities and running water (on site or nearby), mains electricity, proximity to neighbours and noise disturbance, public transport access, suitable parking and safety.

What we can provide:

Start-up Funding: You can apply for a start-up grant of £2000 over two years for your Men's Shed from the Innovate & Cultivate Fund. Please see the chart below for a guide to costs to help you prepare your grant application. Other funding may be available from your Town or Parish Council, local businesses, charitable grants, membership or attendance fees, donations of money, goods or services. For further funding opportunities please see: <https://www.idoxopen4community.co.uk/supportcamb>

Support: UK Men's Sheds Association (UKMSA) is a national support organisation for Men's Sheds across the UK, who can help get you started. They offer ongoing advice and guidance on setting up and running a Shed such as finding premises, health and safety templates, support on fundraising, governance, insurance, risk management and promotion.

How much does it cost?

What do I need to do next?

Every community is different so you will need to do some research and scoping to see if starting a Shed is right for you and your community before you apply for funding. You will need to provide evidence that there is need in your community, and that you have identified potential premises for your Shed and have plans for Shed sustainability. UK Men's Shed Association offers free advice and guidance - please contact 0300 772 9626 or admin@ukmsa.org.uk

We are also encouraging applications to set up Timebanks, Good Neighbour Schemes and Dementia-Friendly Communities, and the fund is open to applications for any projects that reduce pressure on County Council services and/or offer direct savings for the Council.

The Innovate & Cultivate Fund application form and further details about the fund including application deadlines and pre-application advice sessions may be found at <https://www.cambscf.org.uk/icf.html>.

Good luck!
